For them the only reason for working is that they need money to keep themselves alive, to pay for their shelter, and to support their family. However, there are also people who live to work. They work for the sake of success, position and control in society. For them, work is a way of life, a mental challenge, or an emotional involvement. Take some women for instance, they go out to work because it gives them a sense of independence away from the family. As for me, to work is a fundamental human need and a means to an end. However, I work not just for money, because I also see it as a badge of fulfillment. 100Test 下载频道开通，各类考试题目直接下载。详细请访问 www.100test.com
