M: I think I ' ll run down to the bookstore and get a few things W: But aren ' t we going to meet Shirley at the student center? She is expecting us at 4. And it ' s almost that now. 2 . W: Congratulations! I heard about your new job. M: Thanks. Nearly perfect for me. It ' s really interesting. The hours are ideal and it ' s an easy walk from home. If only the pay were half as good as everything else. 3 . W: Do you know anyone who is driving to the conference in Boston next weekend? M: Pete is. I think he has room for another person. 4 . M: Did I hear you say you are using the newspaper in your political science class? I was wondering if when you finish it, you can pass it onto me? W: Well, we do use it in class. But I always read the copy in the library. 5 . W: I noticed you haven ' t been getting along well with your roommate lately. M: You got that right. And it ' s going to be a long time before I feel comfortable with him again. 6 . W: How did you ever manage to get through all 1000 pages of that new spy thriller? M: It took a while. But once I had started it, I couldn ' t put it down. 7 . M: Hi, XXX, how are you doing? I heard you had an operation over the spring break. W: Yes, XXX, thanks for asking. I was pretty much out of condition for a few weeks. Bit finally I ' m back in my feet again. 8 . W: How about a little tennis? Say Saturday or Sunday? M: It sounds great. I could use a good workout. It seems like all I have been doing lately is sitting in front of this computer. 9 . W: Did you read today ' s newspaper? I heard there is something about a new wonder drug. M: I did read an article about medical researchers being on the verge of a major breakthrough. 10. M: Where have you been? We were supposed to meet at the library half an hour ago. W: Yeah, I ' m really sorry. I guess I just lost track of the time. 11. M: I ' m sorry. But you can ' t take your camera inside. You ' ll have to leave it here and pick it up after the concert. W: Well, I guess it ' s too late to take it back to the car. Please be careful with it. It belongs to my roommate. She ' ll never forgive me if anything happens to it. 12. M: The application instructions say to enclose a check or money order for twenty dollars. But I don ' t have a checking account. W: You can just pick up a money order at the post office. 13. M: You know, I really think you should run for class president. Everybody knows you and likes you. And you got some great ideas. W: Thanks. I have thought about it. I ' m taking six classes and working a part-time job. That ' s about all I can handle right now. 14. M: I ' m having a few friends over for a lunch tomorrow. It ' ll be great if you can join us. W: I doubt I ' ll be able to make it. My brother is leaving for Chicago tomorrow afternoon. And I promised to give him a ride to the airport. 15. W: My cousin Lisa said she mailed me some books. But they never came. M: Well, you just moved into a new dormitory. She probably sent them out before she had your new address. 16. M: Excuse me. Do you have the time? W: Actually I ' m not positive. But I ' d say it ' s right around noon. 17. W: My dinner tastes kind of funny. M: Then why don ' t you have the waiter bring you something else. 18. W: Did Mary meet you at the airport yesterday? M: Yes. But she sure got tired waiting for my flight to get in. We circled the airport for three hours. 19. W: About this survey on the quality of life in the dorm. I feel sort of awkward because, well, I ' m not rally comfortable here. Are you sure you want me to fill out this survey form? M: It ' s people like you who can help us target areas for improvement. 20. M: I ' m the only one in class who didn ' t sign up for the biology trip. Slogging through a swamp in the rain can ' t gun fun. W: Nope. But I ' ve got the feeling your classmates will come back knowing some things you won ' t know. 21. W: What are you watching? M: Some boring comedy show. But the Channel 6 news is on in a couple of minutes. 22. M: Excuse me, Professor Jones. I was absent from the first class and I heard that ' s when you handed out the course outline. Would you have an extra copy? W: I don ' t have anyone with me. There are a few left in my office. Why don ' t you stop by after class. 23. W: So, how did Jason ' s presentation go? M: It wasn ' t bad. But the topic he chose last time was more interesting. 24. M: Would you happen to know somebody who ' d like to buy my car? W: Well, I don ' t know of anyone off hand. But I ' ll check with some of my friends. 25. W: Do you know where the nearest bus stop is? M: Actually I ' m pretty new to the area.
