Topic: 119 I agree to the statement that people behave differently when they wear different clothes. Clothes play an incredible role in our daily life. It rules our behavior and defines to new culture in modern society. I am also keeping observing the way peoples behavior with dressing different clothes. The results of these observing are surprisingly similar. Person dresses in clean suit and wear polished shoes, his gesture would comport to be elegant. On the contrary, the same one dresses in leisure sporting T-shirt, sneakers, orrespondingly, he will act arbitrarily with involuntary movements. The reason is simple. The clothes are crucial dimensions to insinuate peoples routine behavior every day. Psychologist calls it "Psycho-hint". So a clean suit and polished shoes would keep us in happy at some extent. Or some people have proclivities to dress in bright color to relieve the pressure they faced. I think that a nice dress will give us more confidence to handle the problem. We also build professional, sophisticated impressions for other people. Otherwise, people will probably be unresponsive to deal with things in casual dress. This is related to our future career directly. Such as, we should dress tidily for job interview, just to give an examiner a good impression. Nice clothes are perfect advertisement for individual image as same as the package in the shop market. We choose the attractive package, same, we feel close with a stranger dressed in proper clothes. To this extent, clothes reflect our special national custom and culture. These roots are at our customs, personal discrimination, and occupations. Calvin Klein is famous for his simple style that defines the apparel of the whole American young generation in the early 20th century. We also find that people in different occupations wear differently. Bank employees, businessmen usually dress in dark suit since they should offer clients reliable impressions. Teachers wear nice clothes that let their students feel kindly. Track to the long human history, our predecessors have developed the complete clothes system. From the primitive leather to elaborated modern metal, clothes offer us the chances to express our unique views and show us the colorful life. So do you consider that buy a nice apparel for yourself when go out next time? Topic: 119 People do behave differently depending on what they are wearing. The reason is not because they have changed, but because people's reactions to them has changed. Certain clothes are appropriate for certain situations. A man can wear a suit to work and a woman can wear something professional looking like a skirt and jacket. When everyone dresses the same, there is no problem. It is like a uniform. Imagine going to a law office to hire a lawyer. One of the lawyers is wearing a suit. the other is wearing jeans. Which lawyer do you want to hire? Similarly, a mechanic works on cars all day and wears clothes that can get dirty. It would be strange to find a mechanic wearing a coat and tie to repair an engine. People will treat you differently depending on what you are wearing. It will depend on how well they know you and where you are. If your clothes are unusual for the situation, they may treat you with disrespect. I remember once I had an old army coat. I wore it into a fancy candy shop to buy some chocolates. The woman was very suspicious and a little afraid. I couldnt understand her reaction since it was still me underneath my big, old ugly green coat. I was dressed like a bum and this caused the salesperson to react negatively to me. Consequently, I was even more polite than usual. This experience shows me that sometimes I do behave differently because of what Im wearing. In this case, I had to balance my appearance. Still, that doesnt mean that Im rude if I dress up.
