money for things they want or need. Others trade products or goods for what they need. Compare the advantages of these two ways of obtaining things. Which way do you prefer? Explain why. 试题分析:

来源：www.examda.com 一．条件: 有些人以钱购物/有些人以物换物 二．要求: 首先比较两种方法的优点,然后说明自己选择何种方法,并给出理由. 三．写作分析: 本题有关经济学,有些考生可能不太熟悉,只能利用想象力思考.写时注意将之当作抽象问题讨论,用一般现在时. 同时注意根据题目要求只谈优点,缺点在两项的比较过程中体现.谈到自己的选择时,注意与上文的比较与分析相呼应,不要过于简单化. Their two basic ways in which people pay for things or services they want or need. One is to pay money. the other is to pay in kind. Each of the two ways has its advantages. Using money as a means of exchange has three obvious advantages. The first is that it is convenient for the buyer to carry the money for a transaction. The second is that because money is a moral means of exchange, it enables both the buyer and the seller to evaluate more accurately the goods involved according to a widely accepted standard. The third advantages is that it is easier for the seller to keep the money after the transaction and it is more convenient for him to use the money for whatever he needs in the future. It is because of these advantages that money is now used worldwide and has become the most precious commodity itself.来源

: www.examda.com Exchanging things, or paying in kind, or barter, is a normal way of transaction before money came into being and is still used widely in international trade and occasionally in daily life. This kind of payment has two discernable advantages. Firstly, the two sides involved in a transaction can make use of what they have to get what they need. For instance, when a person has more meat but no bread, he can trade the surplus meat for the badly needed bread with a person who has more bread but no meat. The second advantage is that the two sides of a transaction can avoid the possible losses due to the fluctuation of the values of currencies or prices. This advantage is obvious when the buyer and the seller use different currencies or when both the buyer and the seller have a sense of insecurity because of the unstable prices. As for me, I normally prefer to pay money for what I need because money is the only form of payment used by others to pay me. But I do not object to trading things with others when it is necessary or when it is the best solution.

范文写法分析来源：www.examda.com 全文打一分三段，自然段为四段。第一段叙述条件，指出各有优点。最后一句是主题句，表明下文的中心大意是分析两种方法的优点。第二、三自然段的大意被主题句限定之后，不能随意改动，所以分别列出了几条优点。第四自然段的观点建立在分析的基础上，也受自己实际情况的限制。一般应说明以钱币购物的方式较适合，但不排斥有时也可以物易物。
