Salaries should reflect people ' s dedication and job responsibilities.

However, sports figures, who don ' t benefit the community in general, earn millions of dollars each. In my opinion this is wrong.

Things should be done to change this situation. If we take the example of a sport star such as Tyson, it is hard for us to say in what way he benefits the society. In fact, his disobeying game rules sets a bad example for young people, and his abandoned behavior encourages people to experiment with sex and violence. Besides, his job does not require special skills or years of training and education.

Although he can entertain and excite audience, I do not think he is justified to receive so much money and his job can be considered essential. On the other hand, most people in ' ordinary ' professions like nurses, doctors and teachers earn only a small fraction of the income of these " stars " . However, if we give a careful look at these professions, we will find that they not only require special skills and years of education but also help the people and the whole society. For instance, teachers disseminate knowledge to the society. doctors and nurses give patients good medical care and prolong their life. They are much more useful, and actually more essential to society than sports personalities. Without these ' ordinary ' professions, our society would stop progressing. Their salaries should relate to skill, education or the value of the individual to society. Things should be done to make salaries fairer. Huge amounts of money shall be given to more deserving people. It seems that the only solution is to impose heavy taxes upon people who earn excessively high salaries. (281 words) 100Test 下载频道开通，各类考试题目直接下载。详细请访问 www.100test.com
