If you make $ 1 million a year and spend $ 1 million , you ' re not getting wealthier , you ' re just living high. Wealth is what you accumulate , not what you spend. The most successful accumulators of wealth spend far less than they can afford on houses , cars , vacations and entertainment. Why ? Because these things offer little or no return. The wealthy would rather put their money into investments or their businesses. It ' s an attitude. Millionaires understand that when you buy a luxury house , you buy a luxury life style too. Your property taxes skyrocket , along with the cost of utilities and insurance , and the prices of nearby services , such as grocery stores , tend to be higher. The rich man ' s attitude can also be seen in his car. Many drive old unpretentious sedans. Sam Walton , billionaire founder of the Wal Mart Store , Inc. , drove a pickup truck. Most millionaires measure success by net worth , not income. Instead of taking their money home , they plow as much as they can into their businesses , stock portfolios and other assets. Why ? Because the government doesn ' t tax wealth ; it taxes income you bring home for consumption , the more the government taxes. The person who piles up net worth fastest tends to put every dollar he can into investments , not consumption. All the while , of course , he ' s reinvesting his earnings from investments and watching his net worth soar. That ' s the attitude as well. The best wealth-builders pay careful attention to their money and seek professional advice. Those who spend heavily on cars , boats and buses , I ' ve found , tend to skimp on investment advice. Those who skimp on the luxuries are usually more willing to pay top dollar for good legal and financial advice. The self-made rich develop clear goals for their money. They may wish to retire early , or they may want to leave an estate to their children. The goals vary , but two things are consistent : they have a dollar figure in mind-the amount they want to save by age 50 , perhaps and they work unceasingly toward that goal. One thing may surprise you. If you make wealth not just income your goal , the luxury house you ' ve been dreaming about won ' t seem so alluring. You ' ll have the attitude.
