So how does a student of English learn the language through experience ? Obviously , to "experience" English , you ' ll have to use it as often as possible. That is why more and more teachers use role plays , dramas and field trips to teach English. What you see , hear and feel will more likely stick in your mind than what you read in a book. Should you have the opportunity to take part in a school drama one day , you will probably try to memorize your lines to perfection. If you are anything of an actor , you will probably say your lines with emotion. In other words , you may "experience" the use of the language as it is really used in everyday life. So if I were you , I would let experience be the teacher. 100Test 下载频道开通 , 各类考试题目直接下载。详细请访问 www.100test.com
