The cost of medical care(医疗)in the United States is very high. The time and money that doctors spend on their medical education is probably one reason for this problem. A visit to a doctor ' s office costs from fifteen to fifty dollars. It is almost important for people to pay for the medical care they need. Many people in the United States think that doctors are overpaid. Most doctors however disagree. They say that they were required(要求)to study medicine for a long time. Tuition(学费)for many years of medical education costs a lot of money.

Doctors say that it is necessary for most medical students to borrow money from bank to pay their tuition. Because their money must be repaid to the bank yong doctors need to receive a lot of money for their work. So they charge(收费)people high prices for medical care.

Therefore it is possible that the high cost of medical care in America is unnecessary. Because high tuition is one cause of high costs one way to lower costs would be to have medical schools that are free or have low tuition.
