Though physical recreation and intellectual activities are two basic ways in which people spend their leisure time, the former is more important for people of my generation, who are in their twenties and who are still studying ahrd for more academic achievements. This view is based on a consideration of our age, our main occupation, and the characteristics of the two forms of recreation.来源：考试大 We young people are full of energy and physically active, but we have to sit for hours a day racking our brains. What we need to complement this way of life is something that can make up the lack of physical exercise and at the same time divert our attention for a while from our academic work. Intellectual activities such as chess games, reading novels, and listening to music can help us escape from our worries and make us forget our study for a moment, but they involve no physical activities and, what's more, they are more or less still a form of mental activities. For instance, we may feel mentally tired after some games of chess and our study will be affected. In contrast, physical recreation can provide us with a lot of physical exercises and true mental relaxation. A ballgame, for example, can build up our muscles, flex our joints, speed up our blood circulation, and enhance our bodily organs. After the game, we may feel physically exhausted, but we can sit down and get absorbed in our study more easily. The above view, however, does not mean that one form is "meat" and the other is "poison".

Occasionally, when we are physically exhausted or when we are in good mood, a game of chess or an interesting TV program can make us feel much better afterwards. 范文写法说明:来源:考试大采用演绎法,现表明自己的观点,后说明理由. 文章用简单的三段式方式,只有三个自然段,如下:(1)总的观点与理由 (2)具体说明来源:考试大 (3)指出例外情况,使分析严密 100Test 下载频道开通,各类考试题目直接下载。详细请访问 www.100test.com
