Digital TV technology will make it possible for TV viewers to watch high-definition TV pictures, equal in quality to DVD ' s, and enjoy audio effects now available only in theaters. More channel choices will also be provided. The traditional television set will be turned into a multifunctional media receiver, meeting various demands of users. China launched its cable TV network plan in 2003, and will start digital satellite services in 2005. By the year 2008, digital technologies will be introduced to most parts of the country. 100Test 下载频道开通，各类考试题目直接下载。详细请访问 www.100test.com
