

#35821.#24179.#32447.#25105.#35797. PDF转换可能丢失图片或格式，建议阅读原文

https://www.100test.com/kao_ti2020/179/2021_2022___2333521___23_c10_179206.htm Language Test We suggest that you test your English-language communication skills. The result will help you determine an appropriate study programme. The following test contains 100 questions and will test all levels of English between Elementary and Advanced. Choose the correct answer to each question. Begin here... Hello! My name is Hiroshi. I from Tokyo, Japan. Im at thean student. I studyingam studyingis studying English in Bournemouth. I am likingto likelike Bournemouth very much. There are lots of shops, clubs and restaurants inoninto the town. There isarebe lots of foreign students here. We have someanyfew great parties! The weatherA weatherWeather is OK. ColdestThe coldestColder time of the year is in January. I am stayingstaystaying with an English family. Their house is nearoppositefar the centre of town. My English family is very nice but I dont likeam not likingcant like the food very much. We eat potatoes alleverymost night. The mostMost ofMost Japanese people prefer rice. Im stayingI will stayingI shall staying in Bournemouth for another three months. Then I goingwill goingam going back to Japan - and no more potatoes! Heidi is a friend of Hiroshis. She is studying English in England too. Read about Heidi and choose the correct answers. Hello! Im Heidi and Im SwitzerlandSwissSwiss nationality. Im a friend oftofor Hiroshis. I workam workingto work in a bank in Zurich. I must have takenused to takehad taken English classes in Switzerland. But I needed wellbetterbest English for my job. So I came to school in Bournemouth improveimproving my English. Im only here for a somelittlefew weeks. Then I havemustshould to get back to work. I am enjoyingenjoywill enjoy life as a student. I mustcanhave to get up much later than at home. And I like to meetmeetingmeet new friends and visiting new places. We have beenhad beenwent to Salisbury and Bath. Last weekend, we had visitedhave visitedvisited the Isle of Wight. This Saturday, we shall gowere goingwe go to London. I want not todont want towant to not go back to Switzerland!This picture is from a tourist guide to Bournemouth. Choose the correct answers:Bournemouth will have beenhad beenhas been a popular seaside resort for well over a hundred years. Bournemouth developed when sea-bathing becomehave becomebecamefashionable. In Victorian England, doctors thought sea-bathing wasiswould good for the health. Now thousands of visitors come intoontoto Bournemouths beaches every summer. The town itself has manya lotlots attractions. It has theatres, conference halls, sports centres andwithalso schools for foreign students. There are a great many hotels whichwhatwho cater for a variety of different needs. And there is some ofmany ofplenty of self-catering accommodation available. During the summer there isarewill be spectacular firework displays every week. And for nightbirds, there are many clubs, cinemas, pubs and theasomecasino. For people whichwhowhy enjoy sports, there is everything from sub-aqua to tennis. Bournemouth International Airport is fifteen minutes touppfrom the centre of town. Heathrow and Gatwick airports isarebe a short journey away by coach or train. In short, Bournemouth has somethinganythingnothing for everyone.

?Welcome attoin Bournemouth!Claudia is 28 years old. She is Colombian. Claudia studied business English at BBSI. She is now working for a PR company in Bogota. This is what Claudia had to say about her course.Choose the correct answers.Well, if it wouldnt have beenhadnt beenwouldnt had been for my course, Id never have beenhad beenbeen able to get the job Im doing now. I workedhad workedhave worked for two or three companies in Bogota, but I haveId never learnt some of the basic skills I neededhad neededhave needed to climb the ladder. In BBSI they taughthad taughtwould have taught me all those things - all the communication and business skills I [52] will needneededhave needed to make contact with people in other countries - like writing business letters, telephone techniques, negotiating, meetings, preparing and to givegivegiving presentations. It iswashas been very hard work! I also studied management, marketing, finance and computer skills - I learnt how to useI useuse a spreadsheet, to send e-mail, to explore the Internet and to create documents. In my final term they set up several interviews with marketing and PR companies in the Bournemouth area. I went to the interviews and got a three-month work placement. It was very good experience, workingworkhave worked with an English company. I think English people arewerehave been difficult to work with - it difficult to know what they want - they never have time explainexplainingto explain - but I certainly developed my interpersonal skills and learnt how to take on a challenge! How else other another did BBSI help me getting get got my new job? Well, they helped me develop my CV - which while what with that, my Business Diploma, my work placement Certificate and the reference that the company I'd been I was I've been working for were supplying would supply supplied me with, I have did have had no trouble getting my new job. And after working to work work with English people, working with Colombians is dead easy! Mei Ti Chang comes from Taiwan. She came to BBSI to achieve a level of English necessary for entry to a UK university. BBSI assisted Mei Ti Chang with her university placement. I have been studying English for about round approximate three years now. I'm hoping to [67] work get gain a job in Tourism. When I finished High School I am was not interested in doing business English but I you he was not very good at English. I wanted to study Business Administration at university at in for England and get a degree, but I didn't know how to go about that it study. Anyway, I found details of Bournemouth Business School International on in with the Internet. I noticed this that because they had a programme which could leave guide take me all the way from an Intermediate standard level type of English right through to university. I decided would decide decide to do the course. During the one prime first part of the course you learn at the quite lot of English and computer skills. Then After Following a teacher helps you study for at the one IELTS exam - you have to pass that because for if you want to get into an English England Britain university. The classes were sincerely really truly good. My teachers told said explained all about the different types by off for course I could study at university then and but told me about each different university. There's so much choice it [87] it was had been difficult to decide! But my teacher helped me and I made a short list of five universities. The school arranged for me to go visit check them and talk to the students also with and staff. I chose my favourite - it was has been the University of Westminster in London. The school helped me apply through UCAS. I attended and waited a bit, then I heard from Westminster. It was good news - they offered me a conditional place, provided I got level 6 [97] in the IELTS exam. Which I did! After that So now I'm here, studying Business Administration at Westminster - it's like a dream come true! Score: out of 100 100 Test 下载频道开通，各类考试题目直接下载。详细请访问 www.100test.com