Version 95(2). People doing different kinds of work enjoy different amountof holiday time. Should people have the same amount of leisure time?Give your opinion using some of your own experience.=====

=====During the last 30 decades, people OF DIFFERENT KINDS OF WORK all over the world enjoyed different amountof holiday time ( who have chosen different kinds of work ) . This phenomenon occured because of social division of work.Its true that this could encourage people ( working ) TO WORKING harder and give themenough time to do things ( as ) they like. And supporters say that the socialdivision of work is a sign of progress of the society and civilization. They arguethat without the holidays between hard works and easy works many peoplewho are working laboriously will find themselves being tired of the work andwilling not do it anymore.However, the difference, I think, is not fair because a lot of workers who are working hard do not receive any long vacations. For example, one of my friends have to do 10 hours of ( works ) WORK in a Sino-Japan co-operation company, ( no ) WITHOUT Saturdays . But in some areas people who ( have got ) GET a high salary need not TO work at offices longtime. Another factor I am against is the CLASS. In a case, a boss ( having ) HAS plenty of time ( is freeing ) TO FREE himself in Hawaii or Minorca while his Chinese clerks is working sweatily at a oil well in the desert of Middle East. At last but not least, the leisure time of some kinds of jobs is hard to turn to real. My aunt , ( who is ) a doctor in an emergency department, hardly has ( any ) time to relax herself. But TO compare with her , her husband , ( who is ) a officer, ( seemed ) SEEMS to have a large amount of time to do things he is willing TO do and is paid double salary ( to her ) CONTRAST WITH MY AUNT. All in all, the difference is unfair . People should have the same amount of leisure time. We should not focus eyes on the advantages of it but why people have not the same leisure time AND not fairly, and do our best to smooth the ( unjustness ) INJUSTICE.-----
