D: Hi, Kenji. K: Hi, Debbie. Have a seat. How 's it going? D: I 'm OK. How are you doing? K: Pretty good. Listen...have you heard about the new Thai restaurant over on University Avenue? D: Do you mean The Bangkok? K: That 's the one. A bunch of us are going there for dinner tomorrow night. How about coming with us? D: Sure, I 'd love to. K: Great. I 'll call and make reservations. D: Any time after 6:00 is good for me. Oh! I 'm late! I have a class. K: All right. I 'll call you tonight and tell you the time. D: Great. Talk to you then.

对话示例2： K: Hello. Could I speak to Justin, please? J: Speaking. K: Oh, hi Justin. This is Karen Hepburn. We met at Chris and Jim 's party. J: Of course. How 're you? K: Great. Uh, Justin, would you like to see Otis Isley on Thursday night? He 's at the Kangaroo Club. J: I 'm sorry. Karen, but I can 't. I have to work late this Thursday. K: Oh...that 's too bad. J: Yeah. I really like Isley. K: Actually, are you doing anything on Friday or Saturday? He 's playing those two nights as well. J: Well, I can 't make it on Friday either, but I 'm free on Saturday night. What time does it start? K. At eight sharp. How about meeting in front of the club at about a quarter after seven? J: That sounds perfect. And let 's go out for coffee after the show. K: Sure! J: OK, see you at 7:15, Saturday.
