Hi, Lynn. I saw you at registration yesterday. I sailed right through, but you were standing in a long line. Yeah. I waited an hour to sign up for a distance-learning course. Distance learning? Never heard of it. Well, its new this semester. Its only open to psychology majors. But I bet itll catch on else where. Yesterday, over a hundred students signed up. Well, what is it? It is an experimental course. I registered for child psychology. All I have got to do is watch a twelve-week series of televised lessons. The department shows them seven different times a day and in seven different locations. Dont you ever have to meet with professor? Yeah. After each part of the series I have to talk to her and the other students on the phone, you know, about our ideas. Then well meet on campus three times for reviews and exams. It sounds pretty non-traditional to me. But I guess it makes sense, considering how many students have jobs. It must really help with their schedules, not to mention how it will cut down on traffic. You know, last year my department did a survey and they found out that 80 percent of all psychology majors were employed. Thats why they came up with the program. Look, Ill be working three days a week next semester and it was either cut back on my classes or try this out. The only thing is: doesnt it seem impersonal though? I mean, I miss having class discussions and hearing what other people think. Well, I guess thats why phone contacts important. Any way, its an experiment. Maybe Ill end up hating it. Maybe. But Ill be curious to see how it works up. 100Test 下载频道开通，各类考试题目直接下载。详细请访问 www.100test.com
