Section B Life is full of dangers, but we do not always think them through well. The first time we are aboard a plane, we feel intense fear of it crashing even though we are assured that it is the safest means of travel that has ever existed. Yet we do not worry when we get into a car, which is much more dangerous. To a certain extent, this is natural. We are inclined to fear the unknown. To establish how much danger we are exposed to in various situations and help us to make up our minds in a more intelligent way, a new science called "risk assessment" has now been developed. Its purpose, of course, is to reduce risks to a minimum. Paper Two Part I Part II Writing (30 minutes, 15 points) Changing Criteria For Good College Students

Probably some years ago, good college students simply meant students good at academic work. They worked very hard just to be top students. they spent most of their campus time in classrooms, reading-rooms or laboratories. They thought about nothing but their studies. But the criteria for good college students are changing now. It is true that good marks continue to be some students ' dream, yet there is a growing number of students who are concerned much more about things other than academic achievement. They try some other subjects like art and music. They are also involved in such activities as speech contests, argumentation on current problems. Moreover, some students even become businessmen. Generally speaking, the changes are not bad. As times are different now, and job market demands personnel with both intelligent and non-intelligent qualities such as creativity, the ability to apply theory to practice. Therefore, students today should be better prepared for changes and competition upon graduation. 100Test 下载频道开通, 各类考试题目直接下载。详细请访问 www.100test.com
