The 7ft 6in (2.26 meter) Houston Rockets centre, who wed his 6ft 2in basketballer girlfriend Ye Li at a private ceremony in Shanghai on Monday, was briefly caught off guard when Chinas Olympic hurdling champion, Liu Xiang, asked about his family plans on Tuesday. "Having children...theres no plan at present. I will be concentrating on preparing for the NBA season and next years Olympics," Yao said in comments published on Chinanews.com on Wednesday. "To participate in the Olympics in your home country, its an opportunity I will really cherish," Yao said. Yao also revealed that his wedding ceremony, at which dozens of security guards kept a massive media throng at bay outside a Shanghai hotel, was deliberately timed. "Getting married on August 6 was to use the focus of the Olympics to divert attention away from my wedding," he said, keeping tight-lipped about honeymoon plans. On Wednesday, China marked the one-year countdown to the 2008 Beijing Olympics which will start 8.08 p.m. local time on the eighth day of the eighth month. Eight, unsurprisingly, is a lucky number in China. 100Test 下载频道开通，各类考试题目直接下载。详细请访问
