She copied their actions and way of life eating plants and getting down on her hands and knees to walk the way a gorilla does. It was a new relationship. Diane Fossey was murdered in Rwanda in 1985 and her story was made into the popular film Gorillas in the Mist. It was a long way from King Kong，which is about a gorilla as a monster（a frightening animal），and helped to show a new idea：the real monster is man，while the gorilla is to be admired. Today there are thought to be around 48，000 lowland gorillas and maybe 400450 mountain gorillas in the wild. From the Congo in West Africa，to Rwanda and Uganda further east，they are endangered by hunting and by the cutting down of their forest homes. Some time ago，I found in my letterbox a little magazine from the World Wide Fund for Nature. It had two photos side by side. One was of a young gorilla. “This is a species of mammal（哺乳类动物），” said the words below it. “It is being destroyed by man. We must save it for our own good.” The other photo showed a human baby. The words also read，“This is a species of mammal，” but then went on：“It is the most destructive（破坏性的）on earth. We must restrain it for its own good.” 1.The text mainly talks about _____. A.

Diane Fossey B. the gorillas in Rwanda C. the protection of the gorillas D. the film Gorillas in the Mist 2. We can learn from the text that _____. A. Gorillas in the mist was based Fossey ' s experiences B. Lowland gorillas live longer than mountain gorillas C. King Kong showed us that a gorilla is admirable D. Diane Fossey was murdered by a gorilla 3. What message can we get from the two photos in the magazine ? A. Gorillas are man ' s close friends. B. Both man and the gorilla need to be saved. C. Young gorillas are as lovely as human babies. D. Man should live peacefully with the gorilla. (4) Like many lovers of books , Mary and her husband , Richard Goldman , seldom walked past a bookstore without stopping to look inside. They often talked of opening their own store one day. When Mary was hospitalized with heart trouble in 1989 , they decided it was time to get serious. Richard , who worked for a business company , was eager to work for himself , and Mary needed to slow down from her demanding job. They started by talking to bookstore owners and researching the industry. " We knew it had to be a specialty store because we couldn ' t match the big chains dollar for dollar , " says Mary. One figure caught her attention : She ' d read somewhere that roughly 20 percent of books sold were mysteries (推理小说) , and many buyers spent more $300 a year on books. She and Richard were themselves mystery readers. On Halloween 1992 , they opened the Mystery Lovers Bookshop and Caf é near their home. With three children in college , the couple could not spend all the family ' s money to start a shop. To cover the $100 , 000 cost , they drew some of their savings , borrowed from relatives and from a bank. The store merely broke even in its first year , with only $120 , 000 in sales. But Mary was always coming up with new ways to attract customers. The shop had a coffee bar and it offered gifts to mystery lovers and served dinners for book clubs that met in the store. She also invited dozens of writers to discuss their stories. Today Mystery Lovers makes sales of about $420 , 000 a year. After paying taxes , business costs and the six part-time sales clerks , Richard and Mary together earn about $34 , 000. “ The job you love may not go hand in hand with a million-dollar income , ” says Richard. “ This has always been about an enjoyable life for ourselves , not about making a lot of money. ”

1. When Mary was in hospital , the couple realized that _____. A. they had to put their plan into practice B. health was more important than wealth C. heart trouble was a serious illness D. they both needed to stop working

2. After Mary got well from her illness they began _____. A. to study industrial management B. to buy and read more mystery books C. to do market research on book business D. to work harder to save money for the bookstore

3. How did their bookstore do in the first year ? A. They had to borrow money to keep it going. B. They made just enough to cover all the costs. C. They succeeded in earning a lot of money. D. They failed though they worked hard.

4. According to Richard , the main purpose of running the bookstore is _____. A. to pay for their children ' s education B. to get to know more writers C. to set up more bookstores D. to do what they like to do
