For questions 1-7, mark Y(for YES) if the statement agrees with the information given in the passage. N(for NO) if the statement contradicts the information given in the passage. NG(for NOT GIVEN) if the information is not given in the passage. For questions 8-10, complete the sentences with the information given in the passage. The Trouble With Television It is difficult to escape the influence of television. If you fit the statistical averages, by the age of 20 you will have been exposed to at least 20,000 hours of television. You can add 10,000 hours for each decade you have lived after the age of 20. The only things Americans do more than watch television are work and sleep. Calculate for a moment what could be done with even a part of those hours. Five thousand hours, I am told, are what a typical colnot.gineer. You could have learned several languages fluently. If it apnot.centrate on anything. But Television encourages us to apply no effort. It sells us instant gratification (满意) . It diverts us only to divert, to make the time pass without pain. Televisions variety becomes a narcotic (麻醉的) , nor a stimulus. Its serial, kaleidoscopic (万花筒般的) exposures force us to follow its lead. The viewer is on a perpetual guided tour: 30 minutes at the museum, 30 at the cathedral, 30 for a drink, then back on the bus to the next attractionexcept on television., typically, the spans allotted arc on the order of minutes or seconds, and the chosen delights are more ofnot.tion and movement. Quite simply, television operates on the appeal to the short attention span. It is simply the easiest way out. But it has come to be regarded as a given, as inherent in the medium itself. as an imperative, as though General Sarnoff, or one of the other august pioneers of video, had bequeathed (遗留 ; 传于) to us tablets of stone commanding that nothing in television shall ever require more than a few moments Concentration. In its place that is fine. Who can quarrel with a medium that so brilliantly packages escapist entertainment as a mass-marketing tool? But I see its values now pervading this nation and its life. It has benot.piness in choosing the right toothpaste. When before in human history has so much humanity collectively surrendered so much of its leisure to one toy, one mass diversion? When before has virtually an entire nation surrendered itself wholeheartedly for effort, and our appetite for complexity are only dimly perceived. If I am wrong, we will have done no harm to look at the issue skeptically and critically, to consider how we should be resolving it. I hope you will join with me in doing so.

1. In America people do sleeping and watching televisions more than anything else.
2. From the passage we know the time an average American spends on watching TV could have made the person learn to become an astronomer or engineer.
3. The trouble with TV is that it distracts people's attention and encourages them to make no efforts toward their life.
4. TV programmers base this operation on the attraction of long-span attention of audiences.
5. According to the author the improper television operation in American society will be likely to make things eventually boring.
6. Americans will face a serious problem of illiteracy due to the negative impact of TV.
7. In American society literacy is a certain right that cannot be deprived.
