Become a College Student 「我一直希望做个大学生」 第一篇：
I have long hoped to become a college student. I made up my mind to go to college as early as 1979, the year I entered high school. If I become a college student, I will specialize in mathematics.

Mathematics is the foundation of all sciences. On the one hand, it will help me to think logically. on the other, it will enable me to become a good scientist. A college education, will help me in a lot of other ways. Certainly, the most important thing for me to do right now is to do my best to prepare for the college entrance examination.

If I work hard, I believe I will meet with success. 第二篇：As early as the year I entered high school, I made up my mind to become a college student. I have been working very hard toward this goal since then. On the one hand, I turn down practically all invitations to parties. on the other, I devote all my time to study. Whenever I come across difficult problems in mathematics and other subjects, I always ask my friends of teachers to help me solve them. But time passes so quickly, and before I know there is only one year left for me to prepare for the college entrance examination. This makes me very nervous and discouraged. However, I take heart in the realization that after all I have been doing my best. I certainly will not lose heart. On the contrary, I will study even harder in the year remaining so that I may achieve final success and fulfill my dream of becoming a college student. 第三篇 : I have long hoped to become a college student. A college education, on the one hand, enables us to acquire more specialized knowledge and, on the other, prepares us for future services to our country . Besides, all parents want their children to be useful citizens, and my father and mother are no exceptions either. But how can I become a useful citizen if I dont go to college? I must do my best to achieve success in the college entrance examination.
