ROB : Allen , I just heard the good news. ALLEN : What good news ? ROB : They chose you to be project assistant over in Chicago. Congratulations. ALLEN : Yes , Mr. Tate told me before the meeting Tuesday. ROB : Great. I bet youre excited , aren ' t you ? ALLEN : I was quite surprised. But it isnt all for certain yet. I told them I will accept , though , if they choose me. ROB : You dont seem very happy about it. Why ? ALLEN : Maybe Im a little nervous about making such a big move right now. You know Nancy and I just bought a new house. ROB : Have you told her yet ? ALLEN : I plan to talk with her about it tonight. ROB : Chicago is a nice place. And you both speak English well. Her English is excellent. ALLEN : I know she doesnt want to be far from her family. That will be the hardest part for her. ROB : Youre both young. A little adventure will be good for you. ALLEN : Maybe. ROB : Do you know how long the project over there will last ? ALLEN : Mr. Tate said I would probably be over there for two years. But it could be more than that , too. So I think two or three years , at least. ROB : To be honest , I envy you. Ive never had a chance to work in one of the overseas ' offices. I wish it were me who could go. ALLEN : Youre too important here , Rob. We wouldn ' t be able to function here without you. ROB : Maybe some time in the future I will be able to get a couple years overseas. I really like that ideachanging ones life for awhile. ALLEN : And your wife ? ROB : Oh , Carol is even more adventuresome than I am. She would be thrilled if I got a transfer. She always talks about traveling more. ALLEN : Ive only been out of the country once in my life. ROB : Well , living abroad would be a great experience for you then. I think you should look forward to it. ALLEN : I do look forward to it , but Ill have to talk it over with Nancy. ROB : Good luck ! ALLEN : Thanks.
