My way to FICC GS-for those who have encouraged and discouraged me...Finally, after very painful interviews, though just 3 rounds of telephone, I got what I want, what I have always been dreaming of and working hard for-the offer for summer internship from FICC GS. This program will enable me the chance to spend 5 weeks in Tokyo and 5 in Hong Kong this summer, where I will get the best access to, through rotations, all the business areas, with focus on Fixed-Income. In the following article, I would like to give a detailed description about the interviews and recruiting process, as well as my experience in the past two and a half years. The first guy was an ED (executive director) in FICC and very nice. After giving my personal introduction, he asked me to speak Chinese since he thought my English was definitely enough for I banks). Questions were pretty challenging (sorry for that I can ' t lay out the answer). 1 please compare Citibank, DB and GS and tell me why you want to work for GS (I have internship in Citibank and a kind of volunteer work in DB) I mentioned that I wanted to work for US I banks, due to their deep commitment to clients. 2 so why don ' t you go to LB,

CSFB, ML and MS?LB declined me, CSFB never recruit interns, and I have applied for both ML and MS, which was the true. But I by no means could say so.....3 why FICC? Compare that to the other 3 divisions..Blablabla.....4 I mentioned BS formula in my last answer and he began to question me about the deviation, assumption and important steps involved there.Luckily, I got the MIAN JING for a tsinghua student who actually got an full-time offer for Equity in GS just the night before and crammed a little bit, but it seemed far from enough[1] [2] 下一页 100Test 下载频道开通, 各类考试题目直接下载。详细请访问 www.100test.com
