I'm talking about video games, games like Counter Strike, Diablo, Smash Brothers or Halo. These games can be fun and exciting, but we need to watch out for when this pastime becomes an addiction. Games are often incredibly exciting and dramatic, but they generally aren 't very intellectual. We don 't learn as much from them as we would simply reading a book, and spending too much time playing them can take away our study time. We need to remember that we are students first and foremost. Even if we do decide ourselves to sit down and play a violent video game, we need to make sure that it is not influencing the younger people around us. [221 words] 行文点评文章以描述现象开始进入主题,逐步
