Yes, My bags gone missing! M: Hold on. Dont worry. Now what flight were you on? W: The one from Paris. M: But which one from Paris? When was it due in? W: It was the 10:25. Flight number UK 4582. M: Right. Ill need just a few details from you if you dont mind. Can you tell me what was in the bag? W: Just clothes. Why do you have to know that? M: We need all the details you can give us in order to trace the bag. Now, lets start with a description. Size? Shape?Color? W: Its a medium-sized, dark blue, canvas case...

Questions 15 to 17 are based on the passage you have just heard. 15. What happened to the woman?16. Who was the man?17. How did the woman describe the lost thing? Passage III Ralph guided the car slowly, very slowly down the road toward the hospital. Fortunately there were no other cars on the hill as he went down the slippery road. Ralph could not hear Mrs. Smith breathing. Was she already dead? He must get her to the hospital! Only three more blocks.

Ralph had just crossed the intersection when he saw the flashing red light of a police car behind him. There were two policemen in the car. the one on the near side rolled down his window and shouted for Ralph to pull over. "Is this your car, Kid? Your license plates are a little out of date, you know. Let me see your drivers license." "But we cant stop now, " said Ralph. "The woman in the back seat is really sick. This is an emergency!" The policeman was surprised. "Under normal circumstances, you'd be in big trouble. But I agree you had no choice. Put the woman in our car. We'll take her to the hospital." The police car zoomed away, leaving Ralph sitting in the front seat of his car. Questions 18-20 are based on the passage you have just heard.

18. What was Ralph trying to do? 19. Why did the police stop him? 20. What did the police decide to do to Ralph?
