Interest First, Sometimes, good job and money are not the only concern in life. Doing something we are interested in is a kind of happiness even though the payment is not high while doing the work we don't like can only cause pain and boredom no matter how high the salary is. In addition, Getting involved in the area of our interest would be more likely to bring about great achievements and success. This is more meaningful in life. Also, I can make friends with the people who share the same love for that interest. Talk, laugh.....

32. describes the most important gift
The most important gift I have ever received was from my girlfriend on my 20 years birthday. It is a purse. Before that, I had no place to keep my changes. It was very embarrassing to look every pocket on my clothing for money. But I never thought about how to solve this problem. My girlfriend noticed this, and she gave me the purse as a gift. I was really moved not only by the lovely purse, but also her chariness. I cherish the purse and take it along with me wherever I go ever since that.
