well, I would like to say that, um, the most impressive moment is when I was informed that I passed the national piano test. it was when I was 9 years old. after hearing the good news I was so excited. well, you know, for this piano test, I had prepared several months. everyday I practiced from dawn to dusk. when i finally passed the test successfully, for the first time I got to know that no pain, no gain.

20.describe a book that you think is interesting

A novel/movie named is very interesting, about an old legend of France. This book/film is also very popular with my classmates. By reading/watching it, I leant quite a lot about the Bible, western religion, Paris museums, and French history. In this story, in order to protect the secret of her family, Emily experienced lots of difficulties and accomplished countless impossible missions. The whole story developed in a very logical and fascinating way. It even made me dream of experiencing the whole story by myself! I really love it!
