B. Which one do you prefer A or B? (1) No doubt, I choose A, because there are too many benefits that outnumber its disadvantages. But B on the other hand, has advantages no more than its disadvantages. The most important benefit of A is that_____. To achieve the same effect, B will_____. Another benefit of A, which B almost cannot achieve, is that_____. Although B also has its seemingly profound advantages, it can only be achieved conditionally because_____. After understanding the reasoning above, it is quite safe now to say: to choose A is a wise action. (2) Some people hold the opinion that A is superior to B in many ways. Others, however, contradict A. Personally, I would prefer_____ because I think A has more advantages. There are numerous reasons why_____, and I would here explain a few of the most important ones. The main reason is that_____. It can be given a concrete example_____. Another reason why I advocate the attitude of A is that_____. Take the case of a thing that_____. One very strong argument for A is that_____. This demonstrates the undeniable fact that_____. Of course, choosing B also has advantages to some extent, _____. But if all these factors are complicated, the advantages of A carry more weight than those of B. From what has been discussed above, we may finally draw the conclusion that_____.
