Dialogue 1 A: Excuse me, Don? I hate to bother you, but I need your help on something. Do you have time to brief me on the Martin account today? B: Oh, thats right. You are supposed to deliver a brief on that account tomorrow. I know there are some things I need to share with you about that. But, gosh, I dont know.... Things are really busy for me today, the only time I can manage to squeeze out might be over lunch break.... A: I hate to make you work through your lunch break with how busy you are.... B: Its okay.... Ive already had several days in a row working through lunch.... A: How about this.... We can make it a working lunch this afternoon, and Ill order some Chinese food for delivery. Itll be my treat. B: You dont have to do that.... A: I insist. I really appreciate you taking time to work with me in. What is your favorite fast food? Ill cater to your taste. B: Actually I do like Chinese.... Lets make it a date for Chop Suey and the Martin account at about 12:30. Does that sound good? A: Great. Ill bring the food. Dialogue 2 A: For our lunch meeting with the investors, do we have to make a reservation at the restaurant or do we just show up? B: Usually for lunch, we dont have to reserve a table, they should allow walk-ins. But to be on the safe side, Ill order a table for half-past twelve. Will that suit your schedule? A: Ive arranged to meet them at the restaurant at twelve. Can you make the reservation a little earlier? If we start earlier, it will give us more time for a longer lunch. B: Are you planning on treating the investors to a full-course meal? A: Yes, well start with appetizers, follow with a soup and salad course, then main dishes of prime rib or cordon bleu chicken, and finish up with a delicious rich dessert of some sort. B: Thatll be pretty heavy for a mid-day meal, dont you think? A: As long as we stay away from anything alcoholic, we should be okay. B: With your prime rib and chicken choices, youd better hope nobodys vegetarian. A: We can make some special arrangement if we need to. After all, its the company who is footing the bill. 100Test 下载频道开通，各类考试题目直接下载。详细请访问 www.100test.com
