Section III Reading Comprehension (40 points)

Questions 41 to 45 are based on the following passage : Office jobs are among the positions hardest hit by compumation (计算机自动化) 。 Word processors and typists will lose about 93 , 000 jobs over the next few years , while 57 , 000 secretarial jobs will vanish. Blame the PC : Today , many executives type their own memos and carry their “ secretaries ” in the palms of their hands. Time is also hard for stock clerks , whose ranks are expected to decrease by 68 , 000. And employees in manufacturing firms and wholesalers are being replaced with computerized systems. But not everyone who loses a job will end up in the unemployment line. Many will shift to growing positions within their own companies. When new technologies shook up the telecomm business , telephone operator Judy Dougherty pursued retraining. She is now a communications technician , earning about $ 64 , 000 per year. Of course , if you ‘ ve been a tollbooth collector for the past 30 years , and you find yourself replaced by an E-ZPass machine , it may be of little consolation (安慰) to know that the telecom field is booming. And that ' s just it : The service economy is fading : welcome to the expertise (专门知识) economy. To succeed in the new job market , you must be able to handle complex problems. Indeed , all but one of the 50 highest-paying occupationsair-traffic controllerdemand at least a bachelor ' s degree. For those with just a high school diploma (毕业证书) 。 It ' s going to get tougher to find a well- paying job. Since fewer factory and clerical jobs will be available .what ' s left will be the jobs that compumation can ' t kill : computers can ' t clean offices , or care for Alzheimer ' s patients (老年痴呆病人) 。 But , since most people have the skills to fill those positions , the wages stay painfully low , meaning compumation could drive an even deeper wedge (楔子) between the rich and poor , The best advice now , Never stop learning , and keep up with new technology. For busy adults of course that can be tough , The good news is that the very technology that ' s reducing so many jobs is also making it easier to go back to school without having to sit in a classroom. So-called Internet distance learning is hot , with more than three million students currently enrolled , and it ' s gaining credibility with employers. Are you at risk of losing your job to a computer ? Check the federal Bureau of Labor Statistics ' Occupational Outlook Handbook , which is available online at bls.gov . 41、 From the first paragraph we can infer that all of the following persons are easily thrown into unemployment EXCEPT. A. secretaries B. stock clerks C. managers D. wholesalers 42、 In the second paragraph the author mentions the tollbooth collector to A. mean he will get benefits from the telecomm field B. show he is too old to shift to a new position C. console him on having been replaced by a machine D. blame the PC for his unemployment

43. By saying “ computation could drive an even deeper wedge between the rich and poor ” (line 5. Para 4) the author means A. people are getting richer and richer B. there will be a small gap between rich and poor C. the gap between rich and poor is getting larger and larger D. it ‘ s time to close up the gap between the rich and poor

44. What is the author ‘ s attitude towards computers ? A. positive B. negative C. neutral D. prejudiced

45. Which of the following might serve as the best title of passage ? A. Blaming the PC B. The booming telecomm field C. Internet distance leaning D. Keeping up with computation
