In Bac Lieu province, bird flu has killed 30 ducks of an infected flock of 607 ducks of 30 days old, raised at a local farm, said the department, Vietnam watchdog of bird flu. Samples of dead ducks found in the province tested positive to the H5N1 virus, said the department. So far this year, eight provinces of Vietnam nationwide have been hit by avian flu, including four provinces in Mekong Delta, namely Ca Mau, Soc Trang, Hau Giang and the newly-confirmed Bac Lieu, two northern provinces of Bac Ninh and Quang Ninh, and two central provinces of Nghe An and Quang Tri, said the department. In fear of bird flu outbreaks in more provinces, Vietnams Deputy Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development Diep Kinh Tanon Tuesday ordered relevant agencies and localities to take urgent measures to control further developments of bird flu epidemic. 100Test 下载频道开通，各类考试题目直接下载。详细请访问 www.100test.com
