托福考试和老托福考试（包括computer-based and paper-based versions）仍然维持140美元的全球统一收费标准。并且此类有差别体系也不会，至少目前不可能同时推广到诸如GRE此类的标准考试当中。原文如下：ETS Introduces New Pricing Structure for TOEFLreg. testing worldwide. One of the goals of the new TOEFL Internet-based test is to significantly increase the number of testing locations where examinees can take the test, thereby reducing or eliminating travel time and costs. Financial accessibility is another important goal. Students planning to study abroad sometimes face considerable financial obstacles in pursuing an international education, including admission testing, tuition, textbooks, and housing. In some areas, students have more financial challenges than others. ETS is introducing a "differential pricing" structure for TOEFL iBT test fees. TOEFL iBT test fees will vary by country, based on where the test is administered. While ETS is aligning TOEFL iBT test fees more closely to administration costs, every attempt is being made to remain sensitive to local economies. In some countries, the fee will be increased, and in others, the fee will remain unchanged. The new test fee structure only applies to TOEFL iBT tests taken after June 30, 2006, regardless of the registration date. Select the country where the test will be administered to view the test fee. The 2006-07 test fee for the computer-based and paper-based versions of the TOEFL test will remain at the current price of $140. 100Test 下载频道开通，各类考试题目直接下载。详细请访问 www.100test.com
