In the past, presidential candidates and constitutional lawyers had different interpretations of the Slovak Constitution. In some peoples view, a majority of the votes of those who take part in the elections will suffice for a candidate to be elected in the first round. The first round of the Slovak presidential election is scheduled for March 21. "The UVK believes that a large majority of valid votes of all Slovak eligible voters is necessary," Katarina Tothova, commission chairwoman and parliamentary deputy for the junior government Peoples Party-Movement for a Democratic Slovakia (LS-hzds), told reporters on Thursday.www.100test.com She said this view was shared by ten commission members, while two other members abstained from voting. The UVK announces the election results. People who disagree with them can turn to the Constitutional Court. Slovak President Ivan Gasparovic, who will seek re-election as the official candidate of the senior ruling Smer-Social Democracy (Smer-SD) of Prime Minister Robert Fico and the junior government Slovak National Party, said previously that in his view only a large majority of those who take part in the elections is necessary for a candidate to be elected in the first round.

Apart from Gasparovic and Radicova, the Slovak presidency is also sought by Zuzana Martinakova, head of the extra-parliamentary Freedom Forum, Frantisek Miklosko, former deputy for the opposition Christian Democrats (KDH) who is backed by extra-parliamentary Conservative Democrats, university professor Milan Melnik for the junior ruling Movement for a Democratic Slovakia (LS-HZDS), Dagmar Bollova, former deputy for the Slovak Communist Party (KSS), and KSS nominee Milan Sidor. If no candidate is elected in the first round, the second round will be held on April 4. 更多链接：四六级机考与笔试差异评析 2009年四六级考试时间及流程详解 08年12月四六级成绩2月24日发布 100Test 下载频道开通，各类考试题目直接下载。详细请访问 www.100test.com
