For each question 31-40, write one word in CAPITAL LETTERS on your Answer Sheet. There is an example at the beginning, (0)来源：www.examda.com Sweet smell of excess-for just £ 47.874 a bottle The marketing says it is the “ultimate symbol of indulgence and truly impeccable taste”. A new scent, named V1, has (1) launched for Christmas-retailing at just £ 47.874. The makers are proudly promoting it (2), the “world’s most expensive perfume” and are confident of selling the limited edition of 173 bottles-(3) it should be exactly 173 bottles is not made clear in the publicity for the product. Although carefully priced at just under the £ 50.000 mark, this perfume is clearly (4) something for anyone who considers £ 30 too much to pay for a bottle of eau-de-toilette. Those (5) are potential customers will certainly be reassured to learn that a case covered in rubies and diamonds is included free (6) charge. Purchasers are assured of further savings, with unlimited scent refills guaranteed indefinitely- at no extra cost. The fragrance is the idea of Arfaq Hussain, a 27-year-old clothes designer who first made a name (7) himself with an air-conditioned jacket he was asked to make by the singer Michael Jackson (8) first, Mr Jackson is the only person to (9) place an order- he wants two, according to Mr Hussain. Mr Hussain is unconcerned at having no previous experience of perfumery. “It’s so (10) more than a perfume ---- it ' s a piece of jewery, too. " " explained Mr Hussain. He attempted to describe the £ 47.874 sensation . " it is delicate , fragrant and quite unique. When you open the lid, it takes you totay away . It ' s just (40) being surrounded by thousands of wild flowers and roses. Read the text below about team-based pay In most of the lines 41 - 52 there is one extra word. It is either grammatically incorrect or does not fit in with the sense of the text. Some lines, however, are correct . If a line is correct, write CORRECT on your Answer Sheet. If there is an extra word in the line , write the extra word in CAPITAL LETTERS on your Answer Sheet . The exercise begins with two examples, (0) and (00) . Team-Based Pay 百 考试题论坛 0 Team-based pay schemes that have been catching the eye of modern employers. 00 Supporters say that they encourage group endeavour and improve 41 organizational performance. But some people, typically the most self-motivated 42 of workers, they have traditionally been rewarded according to individual 43 performance. So are team-based schemes suitable ? The key issue is 44 whether team-based pay is more in line with the organization ' s objectives 45 than pay which is based on individual achievement. Introducing a team pay 46 scheme can be complex. The biggest problem is for defining the team in the first 47 place. Another is that team pay schemes won ' t work if the actions of one 48 individual make no impact on those of another. You should need a true team. 49 like a football team. Where the members are interdependent. When some staff 50 can be especially receptive to team pay schemes because personal motivation can 51 be an important boost to performance

What they need is their encouragement 52 to perceive that the wider term of the company overa : production, administration and dispatch a affect each other. 100Test 下载频道开通，各类考试题目直接下载。详细请访问 www.100test.com
