To be more specific, the type that I'm most passionate about would have to be Latin music. The thing with Latin is that whenever I hear the beats and percussion part, I always feel like dancing. I suppose this may have something to do with the fact that the music was originated from the Gypsies who tended to sing and dance any time as they roamed around from village to village. As well as that, a second reason why I adore Latin is that I never feel tired in my workout if I play it. Like for instance, the cardio cycling, which is the most boring part of my routines, feels much easier when I do it to the tempo GetWord("tempo"). of Latin tunes, even at the edge of the limit of my patience and endurance. As well as Latin, another variety would be techno. The main thing you need to understand about techno is that its beats are even, making it easier for me to control the speed of my workout movements. Of course there are the usual things like country and pop, and stuff like that, even though they are not as often played for my gym time as the first two I mentioned. 相关链接：1月雅思考试网友机经汇总月刊 百考试题特别推荐 雅思新手入门指导 各国高校认可雅思考试成绩单及分数要求 100Test 下载频道开通，各类考试题目直接下载。详细请访
