happiness depends on different factors. Discuss both views and give your own opinion. Happiness is considered very important in life. Why is it difficult to define? What factors are important in achieving happiness? 原创范文 A job provides the worker with the necessary means to remain satisfied in almost every aspect of life such as leisure, health, and social life. Consequently, finding a satisfying and motivating job is essential for improving an individual 's overall quality of life, and several key factors are thought to be critical for an employee to achieve job satisfaction. A reasonable salary is of course the most likely contributor to job satisfaction. In many people 's minds, an ideal job is first of all a well-paid one, which makes the employee feel that he is fairly rewarded for what he has done for the company. Another important element of job satisfaction is the nature of the job itself. Job satisfaction can never be achieved if the work is boring, or if the work is ill-suited to the employee 's education, skills and interests. Finally, job satisfaction is closely associated with being part of the decision-making process in the company as well as having opportunities for promotion. However, it is very difficult for a company to ensure that all its employees are satisfied with their job. The main reason is that different people have different definitions of job satisfaction. Some people may care salary more than opportunities for promotion. Others may never tolerate a boring task. Also, in the wild chase for quicker and higher profits, ensuring workers ' job satisfaction has become only a secondary or even non-existent goal for many employers. In conclusion, increasing workers ' job satisfaction can be a challenge for an employer, but for an individual employee, finding the right job and trying to stay positive might be the first step towards achieving job fulfillment and satisfaction. -276 words- 100Test 下载频道开通，各类考试题目直接下载。详细请访问 www.100test.com
