_____ (引出论点) A case in point is _____ (例证一). As another instance, _____ (例证二). If one more example were needed, I could mention _____ (例证三).

_____ (总结) 习作 Failure

Precedes Every Success Given the state of current affairs, it might be helpful to remember that a common link between all of us is that we have all experienced some type of "failure" or setbacks in our own lives. How we define failure is a different matter. Each of us has a choice. We can let circumstances rule our lives, or we can adapt and learn from these circumstances, no matter how severe they may seem and live our lives with purpose, focus and fulfillment. Many people that are now recognized as "successful" were once failures. Lets look at several of them and learn from their experiences. A case in point is John F Kennedy who lost the election for freshman class president at Harvard. As another instance, Walt Disney was dyslexic as a child and his first cartoon production company went bankrupt. If one more example were needed, I could mention Michael Jordan who was cut from his high schools varsity football team as a sophomore. These are just a few examples millions of people who overcame supposed "failures" and have gone to great successes. What made ? They had a passion, a to keep going. Thats what makes the difference. 列举方法 套路1 It is reported that _____ (现象) The problem is so serious that we cannot turn a deaf to it any more. To _____ ( 解决什么 ) , we can adopt many ways, among which the chief one is that

Diplomas It is reported that the flooding of fake diplomas is becoming a serious problem recently. When employers lay much emphasis on their candidates education background, different kinds of fake diplomas appear in society. Its unfair that one fails to get his job just because his rival has got a fake diploma or certificate.

Therefore, fake diplomas do harm to the job market. To stop this phenomenon, we can adopt many ways, among which the chief one is that companies and universities should have a close contact so that the fake diplomas cannot play tricks. Another approach is that the one who fabricates the fake diplomas should be severely punished by law and totally exposed through media. Finally, the one who uses a fake diploma in finding jobs should be disqualified from the job market for at least three months. That may punish him as a warning to others. These are not the only three measures we can take. But it should be noted that we should take strong actions to prohibit fake diplomas. 套路2 It is known to us all that _____ ( 所讨论主题的重要性 ) . How to Build a Good Personal Image It is known to us all that a good personal image plays an important role in ones work and life. It is easy for a person who has fair appearance and proper behaviors to be accepted by the public. Many ways can contribute to establishing a good personal image, but the following ones may be most effective. First of all, people should bathe often, change their shirts and socks after they take on any perspiration because the odor from a persons body is offensive. A further way to build a good personal image is to remember some regulations when one behaves in public places. They include not speaking too loudly to interrupt others, not smoking to offend others, not getting too close to others when in a queue of crowded places, not blocking the way of others, and not having bad smell to irritate others. Finally, people in different jobs have different customs in dressing. If someone is doing physical labor, he is not supposed to dress in a suit but in jeans and a T-shirt. White-collared employees should dress formally at work, man in shirt or suit with tie, woman in skirt. These are not the only three ways we can take, but it should be reminded that if you have other good ways to build a good personal image, please share with me so that all of us can benefit more from them. {来源：考{试大} 套路3

习作 How to Succeed in a Job Interview Nowadays, many people are looking forward to having a good job. However, a trouble always bothers some of them. Thats interview. Its a bridge for interviewers and candidates to know each other. The interviewer can take advantage of this occasion to learn about the applicant, and the interviewee can make use of the opportunity to know the job he is going to take up. But how can one succeed in a job interview? The following ways may be helpful. First of all, the interviewee should make good preparation before an interview, including trying to know about the company, thinking about what kind of questions that the interviewer may ask. Besides, the interviewee has to pay attention to his appearance since the first impression is always where one starts. Another way to leave the interviewer a good impression is

If you say what you mean, you will be trusted. In conclusion, the ways I have mentioned above should never be separated from each other.
