

BEC高级真题题型操练之填空题练习商务英语考试 PDF转换 可能丢失图片或格式，建议阅读原文

https://www.100test.com/kao_ti2020/644/2021_2022_BEC_E9_AB_98_E7_BA_A7_E7_c85_644939.htm Sometimes an individuals beliefs can conflict ...0... corporate policy, ...31... Nadia Eweida, a British Airways check-in desk worker, discovered ...32... she was told that a crucifix pendant worn around her neck contravened a dress code ...33... forbade the wearing of visible jewellery with her staff uniform. ...34...the face of mounting criticism from Church leaders and MPs, BA agreed last week to review...35...policy which, it said, had ...36... designed to present a "professional and consistent image" ...37... the 90 countries in which it operates....38... for the first time, BAs attempts to present ...39.. neutrally as "the worlds favourite airline" had encountered unexpected resistance. Yet employers can no longer duck such issues. Beliefs, principles, values - call them what you will - do matter in the workplace. In fact ...40... is evidence to suggest that when an approach to business reflects the underlying values of employees, it can lead to better performance and profits.

100Test 下载频道开通，各类考试题目直接下载。详细请访问 www.100test.com