Nowadays, the education of the youth to be grateful is taken more and more seriously not only at school, but also in the whole society. Then what is the importance of learning to be grateful? Firstly, learning to be grateful makes one see the bright side of life that turns him into a positive person, and can also perfect his personalities, which plays a vital role in his future development. Secondly, learning to be grateful can make one become a responsible citizen in the society. If one's heart is full of gratefulness, he can offer as much as he can to others, and make a great contribution to the society. Still more importantly, since no individual live completely independent of others, being grateful, a person will not do things at the price of sacrificing the interest of others. Briefly, if everyone is grateful, our society will be more harmonious, our family will have more happiness, and we, as individuals, will have a more bright future for self-development. So let us learn to appreciate what we get, and we will realize what a blessed life we have. #ff0000>编辑推荐
