My boyfriend ' s Liverpudlian accent suddenly becomes indecipherable after the clarity of his words on screen. a secretary ' s tone seems more rejecting than I ' d imagined it would be. Time itself becomes fluid - hours become minutes , and alternately seconds stretch into days. Weekends , once a highlight of my week , and now just two ordinary days. For the last three years , since I stopped working as a producer for Charlie Rose , I have done much of my work as a telecommuter. I submit articles and edit them via E-mail and communicate with colleagues on Internet mailing lists. My boyfriend lives in England , so much of our relationship is computer-mediated.百考试题论坛 If I desired , I could stay inside for weeks without wanting anything. I can order food , and manage my money , love and work. In fact , at times I have spent as long as three weeks alone at home , going out only to get mail and buy newspapers and groceries. I watched most of the blizzard of ' 96 on TV. But after a while , life itself begins to feel unreal. I start to feel as though I ' ve merged with my machines , taking data in , spitting them back out , just another node on the Net. Others on line report the same symptoms. We start to strongly dislike the outside forms of socializing. It ' s like attending an A. A. meeting in a bar with everyone holding a half-sipped drink. We have become the Net opponents. worst nightmare. What first seemed like a luxury , crawling from bed to computer , not worrying about hair , and clothes and face , has become an avoidance , a lack of discipline.
