Should the U.S. halt human space flight? The Columbia accident has revived the debate on whether the rewards of human space exploration are worth the risks No. I was a teacher when men first landed on the moon in 1969, and I remember how it moved my students and this country. _____ (46) And we havent ventured outward since then. Thats 30 years too long!

Americas human space-flight program is adrift, with no clear vision or goals beyond the completion of the International Space Station. 采集者退散

I want NASA to establish a phased series of goals over the next 20 years, including human visits to asteroids that cross the Earths orbit, establishing a research and living facility for humans on the moon, and human expeditions to the surface of Mars and its moons. _____ (47) An astronaut is todays Christopher Columbus, who sailed into the unknown and discovered the Americas. The knowledge we gain from having actual people exploring can never be replaced by robots. _____ (48) Robots are useful, but humans can do things that robots cant. The real obstacle we face in overcoming the drift in the nations human space-flight program is not technological and its not financial. _____ (49) The lesson from the Columbia accident is not that humans don't belong in space. _____ (50) A Instead, we should honor the memory of the lost astronauts by pushing our exploration of space forward. B Astronauts are key to this expanded exploration. C It's the lack of commitment to get started. D Until then, we should stop risking people's lives by sending them into space. E It is now more than 30 years since the last American left the surface of the moon and returned to Earth. F Our ability to send humans into space and have them return gives us amazing information about ourselves and our universe. 答案：E B F C A 相关推荐：2011职称英语理工词汇选项训练汇总 2011年理工A考试阅读判断练习汇总 为了能及时获取2011年职称英语相关信息，建议大家收藏#333333>百考试题职称英语考试频道点击收藏，我们会第一时间发布相关信息。 #ff0000>百考试题职称英语考试网衷心感谢各位网友在2010年支持和关心我们的工作！ 100Test 下载频道开通，各类考试题目直接下载。详细请访问 www.100test.com
