Zhu Yonglei, deputy director general of the Bureau of Shanghai World Expo Coordination, said the current preparations are running smoothly in the interviewed with Tazhmuratov Maksot Anesovich, a senior editor of the magazine. The event has attracted 240 countries and international organizations, and they would exchange views on urban development and measures to combat the financial crisis in a vision for the future, Zhu said. He revealed that construction has been drawing to a close on the Expo 's five permanent structures, China Pavilion, the Performance Center, the Expo Center, Expo Boulevard and the Theme Pavilion as well as the 40 rented pavilions.

Kazakhstan is building a 1,000-square-meter pavilion with the theme "Astana is the heart of Euro-Asia," and the foundation work has been finished, Zhu told Anesovich. 100Test 下载频道开通，各类考试题目直接下载。详细请访问 www.100test.com
