

圣诞在即 米歇尔携女探访病童实用英语 PDF转换可能丢失图片或格式，建议阅读原文

https://www.100test.com/kao_ti2020/645/2021_2022__E5_9C_A3_E8_AF_9E_E5_9C_A8_E5_c96_645489.htm Asked Tuesday how Christmas would differ this year, eight-year-old first daughter Sasha Obama showed she is quite comfortable with the perks of dad ' s job, replying: "It will be easier to get on the plane than last year." As President Barack Obama prepares to fly his family off to Hawaii for the Christmas holidays, Sasha and older sister Malia, 11, visited Washington ' s Children ' s National Medical Center with their mother. "How will the holidays be different for you this year?" one curious child asked, prompting the response from Sasha which was met with a chorus of laughter. Since taking office in January, Obama and his family have had two Boeing 747 airplanes at their disposal, luxuriously outfitted aircraft that are designated as "Air Force One" when the president is aboard.百考试题 - 全国最大教育类网站(100test.com) "Every year, ever since the kids were born and even before, we go to Hawaii, because that ' s where the president is from," First Lady Michelle Obama explained to the audience of some 200 children, some of them in wheelchairs. "So as soon as all the work here is done, we ' ll go there."来源：www.100test.com The first lady and her daughters carefully dodged another question from a child who wanted to know what Christmas present they would be giving the president. "Oh, I can ' t tell," Michelle Obama said. "Don ' t say it, just give it a category," she cautioned her daughters. The First Lady divulged that her husband could expect something related to sports, with Sasha adding: "It ' s something he likes." Michelle Obama and her daughters also revealed that there are some 26 Christmas trees distributed throughout the White House.

"Unfortunately, you don ' t get presents under all of them," Malia said. Reading festive stories to the children, Michelle Obama and her daughters were keeping up a tradition of visiting with sick kids during the Christmas season started by Bess Truman, former president Harry Truman ' s wife.来源：www.100test.com 本周二

，美国总统奥巴马八岁的女儿萨莎在被问及今年的圣诞节与以往有何不同时，回答说：“坐飞机肯定比去年方便。”看来“第一女儿”对父亲的工作带来的便利十分满意。当天，萨莎和11岁的姐姐玛丽亚与母亲一起探访了位于华盛顿的全国儿童医疗中心，此后她们将和奥巴马总统一同前往夏威夷度圣诞假期。一个小朋友好奇地问道：“对你来说今年的圣诞假期有什么不同呢？”紧接着萨沙的回答引来一阵笑声。

自今年一月奥巴马就任总统后，有两架装备豪华的波音747飞机供他和家人调遣。总统所乘坐的专机被命名为“空军一号”。当天在场的共有约200名儿童，其中有一些坐着轮椅。第一夫人米歇尔#8226.奥巴马和两个女儿还给孩子们读了节日故事。在圣诞季探访患病儿童的传统始于美国前总统哈利#8226.杜鲁门。100Test 下载频道开通，各类考试题目直接下载。详细请访问 www.100test.com