Supporting sentences - Most young people are naturally curious and are not already tired of what they have seen. - Fresh eyes help them discover new ways of seeing old ideas or of inventing entirely new ones. - Young people observe and interpret the world they inherited from older people and are not afraid of change. Closing sentence (optional) - For these reasons, I feel that young people have much to teach older people. I disagree that young people have nothing to teach those who are older because young people possess learning particular to youth. Firstly, most young people are naturally curious and are not already tired of what they have seen. Secondly, these fresh eyes help them discover new ways of seeing old ideas or of inventing entirely new ones. As a result of this perspective, young people have been credited with many scientific and technological discoveries. In fact, it is the older generation who is following the lead of many young people, especially in technology. Young people observe and interpret the world they inherited from older people and are not afraid of change.

For these reasons I feel that young people have much to teach older people. 问题 有的人认为女性不是好的兵役候选者。 Agree: - physically weaker - poor in math and science - emotional Disagree: - train hard - intelligent - strategic thinkers Topic sentence - Given the technological advances in the military, I have to disagree with those who think women are not good candidate for service. Supporting sentences - Training strength is not needed for newer lightweight equipment and non-battle situations. - Women can bring their keen intelligence to help meet today ' s military needs. - Women process information differently and form different strategies from men. Closing sentence (optional) - Women trained hard to be both mentally and physically prepared for duty. Given the technological advances in the military, I have to disagree with those who think women are not good candidates for service. Traditional strength is not needed for newer lightweight equipment and non-battle situations. Women can bring their keen intelligence to help meet today ' s military needs. Some of this new work calls for sophisticated computer skills. Women are known to multi task and interpret well. Also known are women ' s fine motor skill and reflexes that suit high tech positions. Meanwhile military strategists welcome the different approaches to strategic thinking that women bring as a result of the way they process information. In conclusion, women train hard to be both mentally and physically prepared for duty. There are just some of the reasons women are good candidates for military service. 相关推荐 : #0000ff>新托福口语必备850个单词汇总 #0000ff>最新托福口语试题全揭秘之答题方法论
