Agree: - high earners praised - provides security - makes dreams happen
Disagree: - effort counts - accomplishment are key - full life is success

Topic sentence - I disagree with the statement that a person 's success in life can only be measured by money.

Supporting sentences - Although as a society we often judge people by their professions and how much money they earn, it does not cover the whole story of success - Fulfilling a dream can also be called success

Closing sentence (optional) - Most of all, we can measure a person 's success by the healthy relationships they form with family and friends and by their satisfaction in the work that supports their daily needs.

I disagree with the statement that a person 's success in life can only be measured by money. Although as a society we often judge people by their professions and how much money they earn, it does not cover the whole story of success. For example, someone who works hard to open a business is more successful than one who simply inherits it from a successful parent. Furthermore, fulfilling a dream of starting a business, singing in a choir or traveling to a place one has always hoped to see can be called success. Most of all, we can measure a person's success by the healthy relationships people form with family and friends and by their satisfaction in the work that supports their daily needs. 匆忙下的决定经常是错误的。 Agree: - Need time to evaluate facts and merit. - Consider consequences - Consult others Disagree: - first impressions - quick judgment - short reaction times Topic sentence - Some people believe that decisions made quickly are often wrong, but I disagree with this statement because I have seen situations where they turned out to be right. Supporting sentences - First impressions are always right. - Usually, a quick decision is based on past experience so it can be reliable. - Quick decisions are critical in situations with little reaction time. Closing sentence (optional) - Overall, I maintain that quick decision can be both necessary and right. Some people believe that decisions made quickly are often wrong, but I disagree with this statement because I have seen situations where they turn out to be very right. For example, I trust my first impressions when I meet people. A few of my very good friends are people that I chose to like immediately upon meeting them. Usually, a quick decision is based on past experience so it can be reliable. Fast thinking helps doctors save lives in the emergency wards and stockbrokers make good deals on the trading floor. Quick decisions are critical in situations with little reaction time such as when we must suddenly make a decision in traffic. Overall, I maintain that quick decision can be both necessary and right. 以上这些新托福口语实例是针对不同话题进行的一些阐述，大家可以作为参考。相关推荐：托福日常口语、习惯语100句汇总 托福口语常用的13句套话 托福口语丢分原因分析 100Test 下载频道开通，各类考试题目直接下载。详细请访问 www.100test.com
