Writing Nothing Succeeds Without a Strong Will Nothing runs smoothly in our life. To achieve things successfully, a strong will is essential. Life is like a Marathon. Many people can ' t get to the terminal. This is not because they are lack of vitality but because their will of success is not strong enough. To take quitting smoking as an example, some regard it as a piece of cake. They make up their minds to quit it in the morning, but in the evening they feel that the smell of cigarettes is tempting. Their throats are sore, their mouths are thirsty, and their hands are shaking. After the painful mental struggle, they tell themselves that “ One cigarette is enough. Just take one, and the next day I will quit it. ” By doing this, they surrender to their weak will. In the end, they have quitted smoking “ a hundred times ” , but in no time they succeed. Just like quitting smoking, nothing succeeds without a strong will. To be successful in one ' s life, a strong will means that you know where you go and you will persist on the road you choose. Undoubtedly success belongs to those who overcome their weak will and who hang in there until the last minute. 推荐
