Its a cold day, I went to the HAINAN University by taxi, when I got there at about 8:00am, many candidates were looking for their candidate numbers before the white board. Before 9:15am, we all sitted in the classroom, and beganned the listening test at 9:30am. I think the listening is not very difficult, the speaking speed is normal. the first section, a woman talked with a man, the man asked for (a cup of cold drink), then told the woman why he came later, he said (the computers didnt work in the bank), then he talked to (a American), the American gave him (a bus ** map). at last, he said he was hungry and ordered (food and drink). The second section, a student asked her teacher for help, she didnt (pay much time in libary), so when she went to borrow some books, these books had been lented, and she asked whether the time can be extended, but her teacher told her that the reason only can (be illness or **). then her teacher talked about some books, about five books, each book was useful or no useful or others about five or six options(A-F), and each book has one options, you must write down a letter beside each book according to what the teacher said, it is not very difficult, but you must listen carefully, or you will miss the answers. then about a chart, the chart has six columns, and you must write down the express the meaning of three columns, Im sorry I can not remeber the details. and he said in the order of the questions.

after that, a short text about subjects introduce, which subject is part-time or full time or other, when open, I only remember two answers, one is (next year), the other is (evening), and the middle answer about which subject, I don't hear it, because it is spoken quickly, here, you must be attention. the last section is very easy, all spoken in order, and is very clear. it is a research in reading books, one answer is (average), use to describe the readers level. and spend how many staff/day to get the results. The reading, I think is not difficult, but there are many T/F/NG questions. The writing: task1: You have come back from your holiday, and an English friend will go there next month, writing to the friend, describe the place, talk about what you did there, and give some advices. task2: Can the employees have the same amount of holiday time even they are in the different jobs, agree or disagree, and give some evidences according to your experience. the speaking: I had the speaking test in the next morning, and I was the second candidate. The examiner is a kind man, I don't know how old he is, as you know, the foreigners look the same, when I came in, I told him my name and gave him my ID card. now I only write down the questions he asked me, as follow: have your name a special meaning? describe your a typical work day, describe a building in your hometown or where you live. what particular type children have in china? what effect them? and my topic is very easy, describe a thing you like to learn, what it is, and why? how and where you learn? then he asked me about travelling, let me describe my nearest travel for him. then he asked why attend the test, and about the plan in future. at last, he told me he will go to CHENDU city next week, of course he will be one of the examiners during the test in Chendu. I hope it can be useful for you. Good luck! 100Test 下载频道开通，各类考试题目直接下载。详细请访问 www.100test.com
