; Version 101(G) In the past people thought that education was only for young people. Now, it is believed that education is for a person's whole life. Do you agree? State with you own experience and specific details.
; Children begin to receive education at an early age in the kindergarten, where they could learn some basic knowledge about our nature and acquire some living skills. When they go to primary schools and secondary schools, they study mathematics, language, physics and other subjects, which are fundamental and essential for their further study and education. When they go to university, they can study the subjects which they are interested in, making preparation for their future career. University is a place where most learned people carry out research and study. There students have seas of knowledge and skills to learn. But university education is not the terminal of a person's study life.
; As the saying goes, " Never too late to learn " . To fit in with the development of society, a person must study during his whole life. Otherwise, he will lag far behind the others. (277 words)
